PERSONAL SUMMARY

Achieving consistently strong results, I held a number of positions viewed as building blocks, moving back and forth between line & staff positions, with local or international scope, operational or strategic roles, functional (sales, marketing, manufacturing, finance, operations) and general management positions. Through these successful years, I developed strong competencies in business transformation and diversification (creation of sustainable new platforms of revenue), leadership and organization development (creation and rightsizing, team development and people coaching) as well as Brand Development (Innovation management, new channels penetration, new geographies penetration, leading to increased market shares and business growth). I hold a proven track record in leveraging various environment and business conditions, mobilizing organizations to focus on the execution of a vision to deliver results
